CUPID CHRISTENS NEW CITY HALL

Cupid made his first visit to the new City Hall today, and the bridal parlors were christened on the first matrimonial event since the city clerk changed his quarters.

Shortly before 11 o'clock a handsome couple appeared at the new municipal headquarters and after a few questions were answered by the clerk they announced themselves as follows: Laurence Turner of Indiana, now located at Portland, aged 28, an engineer by trade, and Miss Carrie L. Burnham of Portland, aged 21.

The necessary intention was recorded and City Clerk Hilton tied the knot.

Another recount for Portsmouth. The underground cables of the telephone company are being repaired on Congress street.

McNABB'S BOAT REPORTED SAFE

Unconfirmed Story of Her Being Towed Into Halifax

An unconfirmed report Monday night was to the effect that Albert F. McNabb's big motor boat Pet, which broke adrift from the schooner Hattie Muriel on the afternoon of Nov. 7 at Duck Island, Isles of Shoals, and went to sea on her own hook with her engine going, had been picked up by a vessel and taken to Halifax, N. S.

The rumor failed to give any particulars. Collector of Customs Sherman T. Newton had not received notice of her salvage this morning.

SECRETARY COMMENDS BRAVE SAILOR

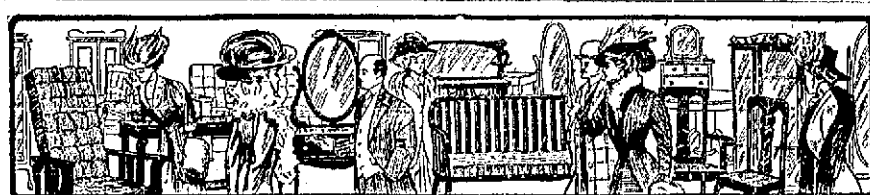

James Hutchinson of Ellington, Mich., a seaman on the cruiser Tennessee, was on Monday commended by Secretary of the Navy Meyer for his gallantry in attempting to save life.

"While no rescue resulted," said Secretary Meyer's letter, "Your readiness is commended."

Hutchinson, while walking down Daniel street on the night of Oct. 1, heard cries from the neighborhood of Broughton's wharf, and running to the scene, dimly saw in the darkness a hat floating in the water.

Without a moment's hesitation he jumped overboard and swam out into the river. He unavailingly continued his search for ten minutes, and at the end of that time was nearly exhausted by his immersion in the icy water and his battle with the ebb tide. He reluctantly returned to the wharf and clambered out.

No clue of the missing man, if such there was, has ever been discovered. Hutchinson had previously an enviable record for life saving.

FERRYBOAT DRIFTS INTO THE BRIDGE

FERRYBOAT KITTERY

Became Unmanageable Because of Little Steam in Her Boilers

The ferryboat Kittery of the Atlantic Shore Line railway lost her steam in the middle of the river on Monday evening and was caught by the tide and drifted into the Portsmouth bridge. There were a number of passengers on board and they were considerably frightened, but they were calmed by the crew, so that there was no panic when the craft struck. The passengers were taken off on the bridge and the accident for a time held up train service over the bridge. None of the passengers were injured, and no damage was done the bridge or the boat.

The accident happened on the eight o'clock trip from this city. The ferryboat Kittery was running, owing to the fact that the ferry Alice Howard was hauled up on the beach at Badger's island, being overhauled. The Kittery at the best is an unworldly craft and had been making steam poorly all of the evening. At the time of the accident there were but 40 pounds pressure on the boilers.

When in the middle of the river the tide caught the craft and with small steam pressure it was unable to stem it and started drifting up river. Captain Rose was in the pilot house and on board with him was Captain Marden a passenger. Captain Rose saw that the ferry would strike the bridge and bent all of his efforts to lessen the shock.

By skillful management he steered her so that she hit the bridge with only moderate force, little harder than she would have gone into her slip. Where the boat hit there were some stringers some little distance from the piling and this possibly aided in saving the craft damage when she struck broad side.

With the tide pressing against her there was some danger of overturning and the passengers were at once taken off on the bridge. It was high water and from the top of the pilot house a gang plank was run to the bridge and it was an easy matter to cross the railroad bridge to the highway.

For fear that some damage might have been done to the bridge, the master bridge carpenter, Preble, and the evening Pullman was held up station agent, Grant, were called and thirty minutes while they made an investigation. The train was then allowed to proceed slowly across the bridge.

The other ferry boat Alice Howard was out of commission and it looked as though the ferry service was tied up for the night, as both of the company's pilots were on the Kittery.

Purser George Woodward, who was off duty, hearing the whistle of the ferryboat, made an investigation, and on learning the situation he secured help and succeeded in floating the Alice Howard and taking her around to her landing, where steam was got up. Captain Marden came around by the way of the bridge and the Eliot car to the ferry, and at nine o'clock started the Howard across with the passengers, who had been held up on the Kittery side.

As the Kittery was in no immediate danger the Howard made several trips and at slack water shortly after ten o'clock went to the bridge and towed the Kittery back to her slip on Badger's island.

It was a very fortunate thing that nobody was injured. With the tide running up strong it was only by great skill on the part of Captain Rose that the ferry did not strike the bridge hard enough to break a hole in her side and sink.

It has often been predicted that the Kittery would some day strike the bridge, but this was the first time it ever happened, and everybody

POLICE WILL BE LAST TO MOVE

Every department of the city which had its headquarters on the second floor of the old City Hall is now located on Daniel street and all that can be found there is the dust and dirt that has amassed in the corners for years.

Owing to Wednesday being pay day for city employees, the office of tax collector and treasurer will not be moved till Thursday.

The police department will be the last to leave the camp and will probably pass two weeks or more where they are.

The department is delighted to get into its new home, but has been held up on moving owing to the non-completion of some of the plumbing and cell work.

To complete the work in the basement of the lodgers' quarters several of the doors of the cells in the old building will be taken out and installed on Daniel street.

Alpha Council, Royal Arcanum, will hold its second Social Assembly of the season tomorrow evening after the regular meeting. Rowe and Holt will furnish the music.

Don't Procrastinate

See about the installation of that electric wiring and fixtures at once. Thanksgiving and the Holidays are near—you undoubtedly wish to have the use of the fixtures during those periods and the long evenings of winter—so see us about having the work done.

MR. BASS ANSWERS PAGE

Denies That His Money Was Used as Alleged

WILL FINANCE THE PROSECUTION

Judge J. W. Remick to Represent Him in the Investigation.

Governor-Elect Robert P. Bass has made the following reply to the open letter of Hon. Calvin Page of this city in regard to corrupt practice in the recent election. Mr. Bass stands ready to assist Judge Page in prosecuting the case. Mr. Bass' reply follows:

Peterboro, N. H., Nov. 14, 1910.

Hon. Calvin Page,

Portsmouth, N. H.

Dear Sir:

Your letter dated November 9th is received. In reply I can assure you and the people of New Hampshire that no money was sent to Portsmouth by the Republican State Committee, by me or any relative of mine for any purpose, directly or indirectly in connection with the recent election. Apart from your letter I never had any intimation that anyone had any intention of using, or that anyone had used, money for improper purposes in my behalf in Portsmouth or anywhere else.

If you have the evidence which you say you have in regard to corrupt practices at the polls, it is clearly your duty to present the same to the proper legal authorities, and I earnestly urge you to do so without delay. I shall be very glad to assist financially in such an investigation and prosecution.

You say in your letter: "If you will meet me privately I will give you information to aid you in getting at the facts." It is not necessary for us to discuss this matter further, but it should be presented to the courts at the earliest possible moment and I have engaged Judge James

W. Remick of Concord to represent me, and he will render such assistance as you may require.

It is to be regretted that, by the publication of your recent letter to me, you have probably made it more difficult to secure all the necessary evidence.

You have made very sweeping charges of corruption and you assert that the execution of the criminal laws of your county is in the hands of men who can not be expected to aid in bringing the offenders to justice. This is a serious assault on the character of such men as Judge Simons of your police court and Mr. Batchelder, your county solicitor, who were elected two years ago to serve until April 1st, 1911, and who is in no way one of the beneficiaries under this election.

Should you proceed with this case with the disinterested motive of a public spirited citizen, you shall receive my heartiest support and will deserve the thanks of the citizens of this state, just as you will deserve the condemnation of all good citizens if you are not sincere and your purpose should be to mislead people as to an honest effort to obtain clean politics for the state of New Hampshire.

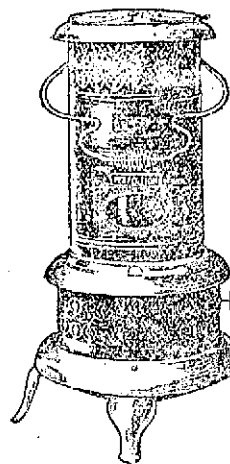

You are a lawyer and are acquainted with the legal steps necessary to begin and prosecute an investigation. Such an investigation will disclose all the facts tending to show any violation of our election laws. I urge upon you your duty as a citizen of New Hampshire to proceed at once to try this question in the courts and not in the press.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed)

ROBERT P. BASS.

Fresh Air in Winter

In winter, it is hard to get fresh air in certain rooms. Some rooms in a house are usually colder than others, and if you open the windows it is hard again to heat the room properly.

If you keep the windows closed you don't get fresh air; if you keep them open you cannot quickly reheat the room. The

PERFECTION
OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless solves the difficulty. You can leave the windows in a room open all day in winter, and when you close them apply a match to a Perfection Oil Heater and heat the room to any temperature you desire in a few minutes.

The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in Japan or nickel. It burns for nine hours. It has a cool handle and a damper top. It has an automatic-looking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that the wick can be quickly cleaned. An indicator always shows amount of oil in the font.

The filler-cap does not need to be screwed down. It is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently, it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for reworking. The Perfection Oil Heater is strong, durable, well made, built for service, yet light and ornamental.

Constitution Lodge, Knights of Pythias, has received an invitation to attend the Dover lodge on the evening of November 29.

After a long illness, Miss Hannah Augusta Briard died Monday night at the home of her brother, Levi Briard, on the Rogers road, aged 76 years, six months and 27 days. Miss Briard left no other immediate relatives, but several nieces and nephews. She was a native of Salem, Mass., but came here several years ago and had since made her home with her brother. She was much esteemed and many mourn her passing.

It looks now as if the Orman house would remain closed all winter, as the parties expected to take it have altered their plans.

Regular meeting this evening of Constitution Lodge, Knights of Pythias at Odd Fellows' Hall.

New lanterns, fire buckets, axes, grapnels and rope have been purchased for the Kittery Point Fire department.

Valentine E. Crowell reports the theft of a set of batteries from his motor boat Waquoit. A short time ago Mr. Crowell suffered the loss of 25 lobster pots, valued at $2 each, through some miscreant cutting the warps. Such persecution of an innocent lobsterman would be most effectively stopped by a good charge of buckshot. It is hoped that Mr. Crowell succeeds in bringing the thief to justice. It is understood that he already knows where to put the blame.

A regular monthly meeting of the Kittery Point Fire Department will be held Thursday evening at Firemen's Hall.

James P. Coleman has concluded his duties on the gypsy moth force, which is now employed in Portsmouth and vicinity.

Capt. Henry A. Marden has resumed his duties on the Albatross after a vacation of two weeks.

AGED HOUSEKEEPER'S REWARD

Prof. Barrett Wendell of Harvard university has not forgotten the kindness of Mrs. Margaret Scrivener for his cousin, Col. James Rindge Standwood, and when Mrs. Scrivener came to retire from active work she may do so as a pensioner of the great English student.

In her old age Mrs. Scrivener hears the calling from her homeland, Ireland. She will soon retire from service in the old Jacob Wendell mansion on Pleasant street, and she expects to turn her eyes in the direction of Killybeg.

Mrs. Scrivener has been in the Wendell family twenty years. During the major part of that time she was housekeeper for Col. Standwood, who died recently. The Wendells now occupy the old mansion.

AXE IS USED ON HEAD OF CHILD

Her Mutilated Body Found
In Woods Near Her Home

NEGRO IS UNDER ARREST

Had Been Employed by Aunt of Nine-
Year-Old Girl and Disappeared After Murdered Little One Was Lost—
Suspect Surrounded by Heavy Guard to Prevent Possible Execution of Summary Vengeance

Asbury Park, N. J., Nov. 15.—To protect him from determined men bent on executing summary vengeance, Thomas Williams, a negro pugilist known as the "Black Diamond," arrested after the mutilated and burned body of 10-year-old Marie Smith had been found in the Manassas woods, is surrounded by a heavy guard in his police headquarters cell. The negro worked for Mrs. Della Jackson, aunt of the murdered girl, and he disappeared after the girl was lost, last Wednesday.

The body was found by W. S. Benson in woods that had already been searched over. It lay in the brush only a few feet from where a fire had been put out by firemen on Friday. Her head was riven by an axe and her face was torn by her fingernails, who had choked her cries by throttling her with the hair ribbon which she had worn when she started home from school on Wednesday. After her death a further crime had been committed. Where the crime was committed was not far from her home and only a few hundred feet from the site occupied by her aunt.

Shortly after the body had been found two policemen burst in on Williams in a hotel in the negro settlement. He jumped up but went with them quietly enough as he confronted two heavy revolvers.

The negro told a story which he stuck to despite the most searching examination the police could give him. His clothes were stripped from him to be examined for stabs. A towel in the house where he was taken is considered important evidence, but it belongs to another negro. The police are looking for this man, but will not admit that they intend to arrest him.

When the body was found and was taken to the mother. She ran bareheaded through the woods and collapsed as she saw the mutilated face. She fell unconscious.

Deal late, when Benson made his discovery, was being drained. The soft mud at the bottom was being rolled as a last resort and if the body had not been found yesterday search would have been abandoned today.

After Coroner Parry had given a permit for the removal of the body the autopsy was performed by Drs. Acherman and Wagner. A coroner's jury viewed the body. An inquest will be held today.

When the girl failed to reach her home after school last Wednesday it was thought she had stepped to play, but when night fell and there was no trace of her the family became much alarmed and a search of the neighborhood was started. This was extended on Thursday, when it was suggested that a general search of the woods and of the lakes be made.

The Smith family looked for Williams to get him to assist. It was then learned that he had been sent into the woods by Mrs. Jackson on Wednesday to cut down a certain tree. Investigation showed that the tree had been cut down and that cuts further up on the trunk showed peculiar marks, later found to correspond with the blade of an axe which was found in the woods near where the body lay. Williams was not found until after the discovery of the child's body.

DIRECTED AT CLERKS

Charges of Brutality in Poor Department of Boston

Boston, Nov. 15.—Charges to the effect that some of the employees of the city's overseers of the poor department are using brutal and threatening methods to collect payments for treatment at the City hospital, were made by Councilor Curley at a meeting of the city council.

After Curley had scored these methods at length, the council passed an order requesting the mayor to make an investigation.

Curley's criticisms were directed at the settlement clerks of the overseers of the poor.

DEATH OF ARTIST LA FARGE

Devoted Years to Mural Paintings of a Religious Character

Providence, Nov. 15.—Artist John LaFarge died at the Butler hospital here last night. He was brought to the hospital about three months ago from Newport, following a general breakdown. His wife was at the bedside when death came.

John LaFarge was born in New York in 1835. He early began the study of architectural decorations and then took up painting and devoted himself to religious subjects, flowers, portraiture and many landscapes.

After a period of book and magazine illustrating he gave his attention to mural paintings of a religious and ecclesiastical character. Many years ago LaFarge invented new methods for the making of stained glass windows which reformed and entirely changed the art of the glass stainer.

He was married to Margaret Perry in Newport, where he had made his residence of late years while having his studio in New York. He was the author of various works on art subjects.

Trio Who Stole $15,000 May Have Been Employed of Contractors

Great Barrington, Mass., Nov. 15.—The three robbers, believed to be Italians, who stole $15,000 from St. J. Hines, paymaster of the Woronoco Construction company, are still at large.

Although continuing the scouring of the swamps and woods, those directing the hunt have turned more to outside inquiry in the possibility that the men might be located in a nearby city or town, and to a thorough investigation of all the laborers employed by the construction company on the trolley line which it is building from Great Barrington to Canaan, Conn.

This will be a long and tedious task, but certain features of the case indicate in the minds of the officers strong possibilities that the highwaymen may be members of the construction gang.

PERHAPS STOLEN BY VEILED STRANGER

Little Boston Girl Has Mysteriously Disappeared

Boston, Nov. 15.—Marion Larkin of Humboldt park, 11 years old, is being sought for everywhere. She was last seen on Saturday afternoon.

The circumstance that a woman dressed in black with a heavy black veil had spoken to the girl, telling her that she was a Sunday school teacher and wanted Marion to come to a party where she would have ice cream, cake and other dishes, has given rise to fears that the child has been kidnapped.

Marion is very well developed physically and is also considered to be bright and pretty. The whole section of Roxbury is well known to her, so that it is not believed that she lost her way while walking.

MARSHALL IS BAILED

In Jail Five Months in Connection With the Coleman Case

Boston, Nov. 15.—John R. Marshall, who has been in jail about five months, under indictment on the charge of conspiracy with William J. Kellier in aiding and abetting George W. Coleman in the misapplication of the funds of the National City bank of Cambridge, was bailed yesterday afternoon in $1500. Marshall's bail was reduced from $10,000 by Judge Dodge of the United States district court because the government was not ready to give him trial.

Marshall left the federal building in the company of his wife, to whom he was married in Philadelphia immediately after he was located there.

MAINE SENTENCE STANDS

Jurisdiction in Liquor Case Denied by United States Supreme Court

Washington, Nov. 15.—Charles Martel of Lewiston, Me., lost his appeal to the supreme court of the United States against imprisonment as an outcome of his alleged violation of the Maine liquor laws. The supreme court held it had no jurisdiction to review his appeal from the sentence.

Martel was convicted in 1907 of having for the second time violated the liquor laws of Maine against "common sellers of intoxicating liquors." He was sentenced to pay a fine of $200 and to be imprisoned four months in the county jail.

Tolstoi Unexpectedly Leaves
Convent For the South

ACCOMPANIED BY DOCTOR

Has Been Guest of His Sister in Ancient Cloister—Story of His Travels Since He Secretly Deserted His Peasant Hut—Disturbed Over Disagreeable Relations Between His Wife and Tenants on His Estate

Moscow, Nov. 15.—Count Tolstoi, the self-exiled novelist and philosopher, in the sanctuary of a monastery, spurned the pleas of his wife and refused to return to his home. "Patriotic appeal was made by his daughter, Alexandra, who followed her father to the monastery, but the count refused to yield.

Count Tolstoi's family will make no further effort to induce him to abandon his self-imposed exile and return to the peasant hut at Yasnaya Polyana which he secretly deserted last Thursday with the avowed purpose of spending the remainder of his days in solitude. His wishes are sacred to the countess, who, however, has sent a message to her husband imploring that she be permitted to join him and share the hardships which he is determined to experience.

Little by little the story of the author's pilgrimage to date has become known. In company with his physician, Dr. Makovsky, he went from Tula to the ancient cloister of Sharmardino in the province of Kaluga, where he was the guest of his sister Marie. The latter for many years has been a nun in the cloister which was founded 600 years ago. The nuns mingle with the world, devoting themselves to good works.

On the way to Sharmardino Count Tolstoi stopped over night at the monastery of Optina. Before entering the place he announced:

"I am the excommunicated and the anathematized Leo Tolstoi. Is there any objection to my staying here?"

The reply was: "It is both a duty and a pleasure to offer you shelter."

Tolstoi spent the day in the discussion of religious subjects with an aged monk, whom he met on a visit to the monastery seventeen years ago. The following morning the count resumed his pilgrimage. He is clad in a peasant's suit of rough material and wears high boots.

Count Tolstoi and Makovsky unexpectedly left Sharmardino yesterday afternoon, announcing that they were going to Moscow. However, they left the train upon which they started at a junction and boarded another train for the south. It is conjectured that the count intends to join the colony of Tolstoians in Caucasasia.

The Petersburg Zeitung publishes a statement from an intimate friend of the Tolstoi family to the effect that Tolstoi's decision to seek solitude was impelled by the disagreeable relations between the peasants on his Yasnaya Polyana estate and Countess Tolstoi and her second son, to whom the count devoted his estate. The countess recently introduced high land rent and secured cheap labor and followed the ordinary commercial methods to raise revenue.

Count Tolstoi was severely tried by this procedure and was often driven to tears as he observed the increase of poverty and beggary in villages which formerly were well-to-do. He was further aggravated by disputes which arose over his refusal to copyright an unpublished novel for which he was offered a large sum of money.

That Tolstoi intends to seek refuge with the Doukhobors in Canada is the report from St. Petersburg by a news agency at London. The Doukhobors follow the teachings of the aged philosopher.

Countess Tolstoi at her home at Yasnaya Polyana is in a state of collapse. She declares that Tolstoi's mind had been wrecked by the machinations of the Russian government.

FATHER TO CLAIM BODY

"Gypsy Queen" Who Renounced Society Life Dies in Cincinnati

Cincinnati, Nov. 15.—To claim the body of his daughter, Jessie H. Michele, who forsook the comforts of conventional society to become "Queen" of a gypsy camp, A. W. Hershman of Baltimore has left that city and is en route to Cincinnati, according to advices received here.

The young woman, who was a descendant of Francis Scott Key and numbered among her ancestors a chief justice of the United States and a governor of Maryland, died in a hospital here.

ROW IN ST. JEAN SOCIETY

Members Will Resist Move For a Permanent Receiver

Providence, Nov. 15.—A hearing was begun in the superior court in the receivership proceedings against L'Union St. Jean Baptiste d'Amérique, the largest French-Canadian organization in the country. The society is an insurance and fraternal order, with a membership of 85,000.

Recently the association was severely censured by the insurance commissioners of Massachusetts and New York for irregularities in its insurance business. The resignation of Supreme Secretary Caron of Woonsocket and the appointment of a temporary receiver followed.

The corporation is now cited to show cause why a permanent receiver should not be appointed, on the petition of John B. Brindamour, a member of the finance committee which found deficits in the accounts of several of the supreme officers, and as both sides have engaged able counsel a stubborn legal contest is expected.

WILL DEVOTE FOUR DAYS TO BUSINESS

President Taft Begins Investigation of Panama Canal

Colon, Nov. 15.—The armored cruiser Tennessee, bringing President Taft, and his convoy, the cruiser Montana, arrived here Monday. The president plans to be here four days. His visit is one of business and it is expected that his time will be fully occupied with matters involved in the construction of the Panama canal.

President Taft did not delay here. Soon after his arrival he boarded a train for Culebra, the site of Culebra cut. The start for home will be made on Thursday. En route President Taft will stop at Guantanamo, Cuba, for a brief time to inspect the American naval base there.

Government Troops Sweep Riots From Streets in Nicaraguan City

San Juan Del Sur, Nic., Nov. 15.—Troops called out to suppress a political demonstration at Leon and meeting with resistance swept the streets with grape and canister. Many persons were killed or wounded. The excitement is intense.

The government recently prohibited political demonstrations. In the face of this prohibition, the Leon Liberals gathered in the streets and attempted to hold a meeting. The police interfered, but were unable to disperse the crowd, which attacked the officers. Troops were then summoned and, reaching the scene, drove the rioters to cover by a furious charge.

AFTER THREE YEARS

Indictment Returned Against Rhode Island Man For Manslaughter

Providence, Nov. 15.—Within three days of the date when the case would be outlawed under the statute of limitations, a special grand jury returned an indictment late yesterday against John O. Allen of Pawtucket, charging him with manslaughter.

Allen is accused of having run down and killed Elmer Duck, a young boy, in Central Falls, on Nov. 17, 1907. He was not arrested, however, until a few days ago, and as the case would be outlawed on Nov. 17 next, a special grand jury had to be summoned.

FALL PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Man Charged With Double Murder Is Remanded to Jail

Boston, Nov. 15.—Walter G. Fall was arraigned in the superior criminal court before Judge Stevens on an indictment accusing him of murder in the first degree. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded to jail. The court will assign counsel for the defendant at the latter's request made in open court.

The defendant said Police Sergeant Schieber and Frank Rees in the district attorney's office last Thursday.

MARKET LETTERS

The list of uncertainties has been shortened by one of its leading items, at the same time that what Wall Street considers the great menace to its peace of mind has been eliminated. We shall have peace awhile from politics.

The election having gone just as business and finance desired, and as general expectation outlined, it is only in accordance with stock market traditions that prices should have reacted when "all the good news was out." Taking one's profits was the equivalent in many cases of cashing election bets.

The real significance and effect of the returns will develop later. It will be generally appreciated when legislation again becomes a live topic. The strategic advantage on which Wall Street counts will then be evident, when division of power and responsibility, sentimental in the short reaction and actual in the long, will prevent any radical enactments that could impede the recuperation and fresh progress of business.

With the counting of the votes comes the final accounting of the harvest, and with King Corn a more loyal figure than ever. A great deal is made just now of business dullness, present and possible; against this may safely be set the general influence of the bumper crops. They offset in more ways than one; whatever strain is imposed on money by crop-moving is negated by the temporarily light demand from industrial quarters.

Until we get nearer the shadow of the Supreme Court trust decisions, it is not easy to perceive what shall check, for more than passing reactions, the gradual improvement of the market.

F. L. MILLIKEN & CO.

Perhaps not a few were disappointed at the slump in securities following the elections. But the market generally discounts the favorable as well as the unfavorable news in advance, and it is not surprising that on the occurrence of the expected democratic victory, profit taking should be widespread.

But in spite of a temporary setback which however merely tends to strengthen the technical position of the market, the basis for a slow bull market has undoubtedly been laid. The elections have turned out just as the "street" desired, though there are intimations in some quarters that the swing towards democracy was rather too strong to be absolutely comfortable. But the real value of the democratic victory lies in the fact that Roosevelt and the policies for which he stood have been defeated and repudiated. This alone should give to industry a new impetus and securities should receive from it a new impulse.

The government crop report showing the largest yield of corn in the history of the country is a factor of the greatest significance.

Never before has agricultural wealth been rolled up in such volume. The buying power thus created is bound to make for a greatly increased demand for goods throughout the country, and together with the political developments should have a good influence on industry and improve sentiment both at home and abroad.

The report that the railroads and the shippers are likely to reach a compromise on the rate question is also favorable. Foreign trade is also improving.

There are, of course, still many clouds on the horizon. The Trust cases are still unsettled. There is likely to be a change made in some tariff schedules. But in the meantime the needs of 90,000,000 people must be provided for by our mills and factories, and this alone guarantees an activity in the industrial world, which must be reflected in big earnings gross and net for our manufacturers and railroads and must make a good living wage for capital.

AGED WOMAN MURDERED

Ex-Convict Is Suspected of Having Committed the Crime

San Francisco, Nov. 15.—Deaf beyond semblance to a human form, the body of a woman was found in a vacant lot next to the Savoy theatre, in the centre of the business district of this city. John Knapp, former convict, is in jail, charged with murder.

The murdered woman was identified as Mrs. Julia Cary, aged 55 years. Identification was made by Mrs. Love, matron of the city prison, who said Mrs. Cary had been in prison on a number of times for petty offenses.

Detectives found Knapp standing in front of a stable, where he is employed, not far from the place where the body lay. He was placed under arrest, and in his room in the stable the officers found a window weight smeared with blood and knotted gray hairs. Some of Knapp's discarded garments were covered with blood, and the collar and waistcoat were spotted with bloody finger prints.

A trail was discovered over which the woman had been dragged from the stable to the lot where the body was found. Knapp is 57 years old and served thirteen years in the penitentiary for the murder of James Quinn in a gambling quarrel.

CALLS AWARD EXCESSIVE

Lawyer Appleton Will Fight Jury's Decision Against Him

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 15.—Claiming that the jury's verdict of $20,000 awarded to Miss Sadie Waters, a stenographer, in her suit for breach of promise against Lawyer Frank A. Appleton of Boston, was excessive and against the weight of evidence, John S. Richardson, attorney for Appleton, gave notice at the clerk of court's office that he would appeal.

In his notice of appeal Richardson gave as his reasons the excessive verdict, the lack of evidence on the part of the plaintiff and the influencing of the jury by an interview published in a Boston paper.

Miss Waters was a stenographer in the office of Appleton, and sued him for $20,000, claiming that he had promised to marry her, but failed.

COLT CONSENTS TO USE OF HIS NAME

Three in Rhode Island Contest For Aldrich's Seat

Providence, Nov. 15.—Judge Lebaron B. Colt of Bristol, judge of the United States circuit court of appeals, which sits at Boston, has consented to have his name presented to the legislature as a candidate for United States senator to succeed Nelson W. Aldrich.

This announcement makes two avowed Republican candidates for the office in the field, Henry F. Lipitt, a wealthy textile manufacturer of this city, who is popularly supposed to be Aldrich's choice, having announced his candidacy last Friday.

A three-cornered contest for senator is now presented, the Democratic assemblymen being pledged to support Judge Arthur L. Brown of the United States circuit court of this city. Judge Brown, however, has not announced that he would accept the senatorship if elected.

CALF FEEDS ON CASH

Veterinary Extracts Mutilated Bills From the Bovine's Stomach

Spartanburg, S. C., Nov. 15.—While going milking, Mrs. Luther Calvert, who lives at Clinton, dropped a pocketbook containing five twenty-dollar bills, a ten and a five and three ones, besides a silver quarter. The money was missed an hour later and thorough search revealed the quarter, which showed signs of having been chewed upon by a calf.

A young heifer in the yard had a guilty look and a veterinary surgeon was summoned. The roll was extricated from the stomach of the calf in a badly mutilated condition. The bills were taken to a local bank cashier, who sent them to Washington to be redeemed.

EQUALITY.

Whether I be the grandest genius on earth in a single thing, and that single thing earthly, or the poor peasant who, behind his plow, whistles for want of thought, I strongly suspect it will be all one when I pass to the competitive examination yonder! On the other side of the grave a Raphael's occupation may be gone as well as a plowman's.—Bulwer-Lytton.

THE AMERICAN BOY SCOUT

The boy scouts continue to grow in power, vigor and manliness, and their place among the world's juvenile organizations to grow more prominent and influential than ever. Indeed, after General Baden Powell's exaltation of the boy scouts in his book "Scouting for Boys" to such a high standard, nothing remains but for them to continue to push upward and onward in their aims. There are many intentions to do otherwise. He points out that it is the duty of the boy scout to revive chivalry, self sacrifice, kindness, generosity, politeness, obedience and discipline, cheerfulness, though some will dispute the assumption that these virtues are in need of "revival." All the boy scouts and their parents as well, without fail, should read this work.

The boy scout movement will do more for the rising generation than is as yet realized, and more than many official measures. A few hours spent in a boy scout camp is an education as to what boys can be in this direction if taken in hand in the right way. There one meets with all the good qualities which Gen. Baden Powell expected to revive and many others; and the open air life engenders endurance, resourcefulness, cleanliness, and other characteristics desirable to the young American.

BIRDSEYE VIEWS

Portsmouth harbor and riverfront is coming into its own as rapidly as could be desired. Few places on the coast can boast of an equal number of industries established within an equal time. The trans-Atlantic terminal will come later.

There is nothing new under the sun, we are told, neither, it seems, is there anything imaginable which can not be contrived by genius. The latest is a submarine gun which shoots water instead of bullets. Next may be expected a gun for aeroplanes which will shoot air.

A Prince Edward Island edition AD BIRDS EYE VIEWS.....

wakes up long enough to declare that Maine should be part of Canada on the ground that the symmetry of that country's borders is disturbed by the Pine Tree state. Maine should retaliate by claiming that Grand Manan Island mars the appearance of her map.

The scholastic and collegiate rifle club, which is being promoted by the National Rifle association, with the co-operation of the war department and National board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice, might fittingly be allied in some way with the Boy Scouts. It would be for the benefit of both organizations.

Who said close Portsmouth navy yard? Commemorative statements concerning it are to be found in the papers nearly every day; even those which were once antagonistic have joined forces on the side of our yard.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

"Pitiless Publicity"

The public has very slight knowledge of the operations of federal and state governments. The people understand in a general way that this or that plan is to be tried, but what really occurs in the course of months and years escapes their notice because of lack of due publicity as to the methods of public officials. To be sure, annual reports are submitted, but these are usually very mystifying to readers.

This lack of publicity is beginning to be felt keenly by the people, hence there is a loud cry for fuller information in regard to governmental affairs. This publicity, as Gov.-elect Woodrow Wilson puts it, should be "pitiless publicity." All the new democratic governors should bear this public demand in mind. Impartial and thorough investigations of public finances and commissions and public reports thereon will be very acceptable to taxpayers. They will then know how the public funds are distributed and can judge for themselves whether such expenditure is along prudent and sane lines.

By all means let us have the fullest measure of "pitiless publicity" hereafter, so that the atmosphere may be cleared of much doubt and suspicion now existing in every state.—Boston Globe.

Speedy Settlement Likely

Now that the trouble in Mexico City is in the hands of cool headed authorities of both nations, there will doubtless be an amicable and satisfactory adjustment. Outrageous as the rioting was in its anti-American demonstration, it must be borne in mind that it was not wholly without provocation. That the action of the Texas mob in burning a Mexican at the stake without trial or conviction, should inflame a Mexican mob to fury might have been anticipated. Meanwhile the Mexican government has acted with commendable vigor. It has suppressed the disorder and will make the reparation required by our ambassador for affronts offered to our flag. It is to be hoped that this unpleasant episode will have no permanent effect upon the relations of the two countries. It is essential, for the development of mutual interests that a friendly regard should exist between the United States and the Latin American nations. Mob law is bad in any circumstances; it is particularly dangerous when it is likely to promote a race war, or imperil the friendly relations between two neighboring countries.—Portland Argus.

LITERARY NOTES

Popular Mechanics for December. A returned voyager expressed surprise in New York recently at the lack of interest displayed in this country in the development of aerial navigation.

Possibly some thought of the lack of public information regarding facts of the air influenced the editors of Popular Mechanics Magazine in the preparation of the December number of that always interesting publication. This edition, which has just come from the press, offers abundant material for the study of the doings and accomplishments of airmen.

The big article of the issue is Victor Loughheed's defense of the aeroplane as a weapon in war. Mr. Loughheed, recognized throughout the country as one of the best authorities on the new science, has taken exception to some of the statements made by Captain Richmond P. Hobson in Popular Mechanics for August regarding the usefulness of aircraft against battleships.

But aviation is not all. Popular Mechanics offers its readers, though it constitutes the basis of a number of articles. L. William Thavis sums up the value of battle practice to the Atlantic fleet, and E. E. North tells an interesting story of the kind of toys to be offered for sale during the coming Christmas shopping period. A remarkable situation is revealed in an extensive article by Gardiner Black who declares that this country has nothing to fear from foreign military spies for the very simple and sufficient reason that the spies have nothing to fear from the country. The United States is the only nation on earth that not only has law to punish a person who attempts to obtain information regarding the plans of offense and defense, but makes this work easy through offering all sorts of official information on the subject and which may be obtained on application to the proper officer. Hamilton Wright is the author of a comprehensive summing up of the California oil situation in which he propounds some very interesting questions for the puzzle-

A TIMELY TOPIC

—BY—
 HON. C. NEAL BARNEY,
 Of Lynn.

The Man for the Age

ONE of the most significant features of the growth of our cities has been the remarkable increase in communal activities. Few people realize that as late as the middle of last century most cities, with here and there an exception as to some item or other, were without public water supplies, police systems, general means of conveying alarms of fire, public street lighting or watering, common sewers, systematic collection of garbage or refuse; public health departments, and many more forms of communal activity that are today taken as matters of course. From an age of individualists, when each man provided protection for his own family from fire, violence and pestilence and surrounded his own home with such conveniences and safeguards as he saw fit, we have been suddenly thrust into an age when the individual demands that society protect him, and in return feels in greater or less measure his own responsibility as a citizen and as a member of society.

The extent to which the individual feels this obligation depends largely upon the viewpoint from which he surveys life. Fortunately there has come to us through the centuries the historic viewpoint of the Nazarene. Leaders in religion and those who follow are now eagerly proclaiming, as though a new revelation, the discovery that centuries ago one humbly stated his belief in the ideal of the perfect social order, and with still greater significance taught future generations that to be serviceable in the struggle toward the ideal was the highest duty of the individual toward his fellows. Has not this 20th century view of the social side of religion given us a view also of the kind of good citizen and good man the world needs today?

Before the great awakening of interest in social and civic problems and welfare came, the good citizen was the good man who paid his taxes, voted conscientiously, served on the jury when summoned and kept within the letter of the law.

Today, while he must do all these, he must also, as Governor Hughes has well phrased it, have a conscientious mental attitude toward society of which he forms a part. He must see something of the vision of better things and must uncompromisingly set his face toward the bright light of the dawning day and dedicate the service of his head, his heart and his hand to the social welfare. He will doubtless be governed by the need which appeals to him most strongly.

ment of scientists and oil operators.

These are only some of the things to be found in Popular Mechanics for December. Besides the risp, snappy editorials by H. H. Windsor, the other regular features of the publication are filled with timely and reasonable suggestions. This is especially true of the "Shop Notes" and "Amateur Mechanics" departments.

St. Nicholas in 1911

It is promised that St. Nicholas' "Nature and Science" Department will be more than ever instructive and interesting in 1911, for, in addition to describing, illustrating, and answering questions on subjects relating to all branches of animal and plant life, it will give increased attention to the many fascinating problems of invention, mechanics, astronomy, and the like—problems that in some cases are as "new" as the St. Nicholas readers themselves.

The Century in 1911

"Mothering on Perilous," which The Century announces among its 911 features, will be graphic sketches of real life in a Kentucky mountain "settlement" school, written by Miss Lucy S. Furman, out of her experiences as a "settlement" school teacher on Perilous Creek.

EASILY BREAKS

A SEVERE COLD

Ends All Grippe Misery in Just a Few Hours

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars, and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not of service in the treatment of colds or grippe.

It is a positive fact that a dose of Pape's Cold Compound, taken every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken, will end the Grippe and break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach, limbs or any part of the body.

It promptly relieves the most miserable neuralgia pains, headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Take this harmless Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine, made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects, as a 25 cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

On Wednesday, Nov. 16, at 4 p. m. in Association Hall, Mrs. John Colby Abbott will give a novel and attractive lecture on "Fables and Furbelows of the Past," playing special attention to the vagaries of fashion at the French Court, from the early days of Louis 14th to the eve of the Revolution. Illustrated by a life-sized paper doll which appears in many costumes, historically correct in every detail. Admission to the public, 35 cts.

Dispatch Says Meyer Will Recommend Its Improvement

As a result of his recent extensive inspection of the navy yards, Secretary Meyer is preparing recommendations to Congress for the discontinuance of some navy yards and the substantial increase of others.

The Portsmouth navy yard, says a dispatch from Washington, has a splendid dry dock capable of taking in the largest battleships, and therefore is not likely to be closed. For the same reason the Boston yard, with its two docks, will certainly be maintained in full operation. There may be a considerable curtailment of activity at some of the Atlantic and Gulf docks.

It is probable that Charleston, S. C., yard will continue to be merely a torpedo station, as experts have estimated it would cost not less than $2,000,000 to open up a channel for heavy draught battleships while an appropriation of many thousands annually would be required to remove the silt which finds its way into the channel.

The two docks on the Pacific coast are slated for continuance. At Mare Island, where the government spent $14,000,000 in creating a great dock suitable for repair work and for the accumulation of stores, either the channel will be deepened to admit battleships to the docks or private dock property on deep water in the lower bay will be acquired, as Congress may decide.

The Puget Sound dock is indispensable and special effort will be made to develop the naval station at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, which is regarded as the key to the naval defense of the Pacific coast.

SUPERIOR COURT

The case of Thomas H. Kelley against Deputy Sheriff Benjamin R. Wheeler of Salem this morning occupied the attention of a jury in superior court.

Kelley alleges that he bought a mortgage of about $3500 on the Hotel Lockingham at Salem, which was operated by Hugh Ferguson, formerly proprietor of the St. Charles hotel in Lowell. His mortgage included beds and other hotel fixtures, cigars and liquor.

The deputy sheriff served an attachment on part of the stock. Kelley claims a loss of $500 on the articles attached. The defense sets forth that the mortgage was made to cover the occasion.

The jury consists of Thomas C. Lecker, Albert E. Rand, Amos O. Benfield, Frank E. Watson, Frank Torrocks and William H. Cullen of this city, Foreman Edward C. Griffin of Auburn, Charles F. True of Chester, Ernest Wilham of Seabrook, Frank S. Green of Rye, Frank P. Smith of Nottingham and Herbert J. Towle of Northwood.

The case of Carrie M. Joslin against Ellen A. Weaver, and the case of Weaver against Joslin are postponed to the end of the session. The case of Deborah A. French, executrix of Deborah A. Ricker, against John M. Wadleigh and Walter S. Carlisle (Wadleigh and Carlisle) is also postponed.

THEATRICAL TOPICS

"Graustark," the magnificent production of the play of that name under the direction of Messrs. Baker and Castle, which was the hit of the past two seasons in New York and Chicago, is taken from George Barr McCutcheon's romantic and thrilling story of a love behind a throne, in which a typical American hero defies the traditions hedging old world royalty and wins the hand of the Princess he loves.

"Graustark" lends itself advantageously to dramatic purposes, and the pretty stage pictures, and romantic and heroic spoken dialogue arouse the patriotic pride and quicken the popular pulse even more than the printed words.

"Graustark" is strong in heart interest and is doubly strong in exploiting that spirit of Yankee independence and Yankee pluck that always appeal to the hearts of loyal Americans. This spirit is exemplified in the play and novel by Graustark of the U. S. A., who, after meeting the Princess of "Graustark" near Denver, follows her across the ocean ignorant of her rank and title, and by Harry Asquith a young artist, who makes it plain to the barons and princes in the Graustark Court that an American citizen is every whit as good as a man with a title. That these two characters are popular goes without saying.

The character of the Princess, who fights against the dictates of her heart and stands ready to sacrifice her love for the young American on the altar of duty and the welfare of her country, is cleverly drawn, revealing the true woman behind the mask of royalty.

B. F. Keith's Theatre

It was expected that such a mammoth production as that of Gus Edwards would hold over for a second week at B. F. Keith's theatre, where it has proved to be one of the strongest attractions seen at that house in many years. The supporting bill will be even stronger than that of last week, and will include a number of novel features seen here for the first time. There have been many companies of trained seals in recent years, but none that have been able to perform the wonderful feats of Treat's Seals; that are announced as one of the leading features of the bill. Carson and Willard, the German comedians, also return with something entirely new and a newcomer will be Harry L. Webb, who is one of the greatest favorites the West has ever had in blackface minstrelsy. Another "scream" will be Grant Simpson and Lulu McConnell in a comedy sketch called "A Stormy Hour," which is a succession of laughs from start to finish. Verona Verdi and her talented brother will also appear, and another important feature will be Le Den, the King's Jester from the Felles Berges, in Paris with his remarkable feats of juggling.

connected with the accident hope it is the last trip up river.

But for the fact that the Kittery had been out of commission for over a year she would have doubtless been in a condition to combat the tide. Last night's accident occurred considerably after high water when the strength of the tide had somewhat subsided.

A gang of men was at work today re-establishing the telephone connection between Boston and Portland part of which was broken off for some little time when the Kittery fouled the bridge.

HEARING ON TAX CASE RESUMED

In support of its contention that the valuation on which it is taxed is in excess of the average valuation placed upon all real and personal property throughout the state, by local boards of assessors, and which is countenanced by the state board of equalization, the Boston and Maine railroad at the resumption of the famous tax case heard Monday afternoon called upon the selectmen and other citizens of the towns of Newington, North Hampton and New Castle as witnesses. The evidence submitted by them was intended to show the undervaluation in those towns. Inventories of the properties in the respective towns were submitted.

By a comparison of the appraised valuation and the assessed valuation of the town of Newington it was shown that property in that town is assessed to about 52 per cent of its actual value. About the same percentage is said to apply in the other towns.

The original valuation of the Boston and Maine railroad in the state as set by the board of equalization, is approximately $50,000,000. The board according to the railroad's contention, placed the assessable valuation of the actual valuation at 64 per cent of $50,000,000 or $32,000,000. The railroad maintains that the assessable rate should be 45 per cent, or $22,500,000. The taxes charged the railroad at the rate of $21.38 per $1000 on $32,000,000 amounted to approximately $689,600 in taxes which is the assessment on $22,000,000 at the rate of $21.38 per $1000. The road claims that 45 per cent of the actual valuation is the comparative assessment throughout the state.

BARNABEE IS 77 YEARS OLD

Henry Clay Barnabee, old time opera singer and member of the famous Bostonians, was 77 years old yesterday. He was born at Portsmouth Nov. 14, 1833.

The event was quietly observed at the residence of his niece, Mrs. Henry Brewer, 16 Hanover avenue, Jamaica Plain, Mass., where he has made his home since the death of his wife some months ago.

The venerable artist was the recipient of floral remembrances from old friends and letters of congratulation. A number of his neighbors called on him to extend their best wishes.

Mr. Barnabee is well preserved and his wit is as keen as ever. Although he cannot caper as nimbly as in years ago, when as Sir Joseph Porter, K. C. B., he danced about the deck of H.M.S. Sparrow, old theatregoers would be much surprised at the rotundity of his well preserved voice, could they hear him sing some of his old time vocal successes.

UNIONS HOSTILE TO THE MILITIA

MADE A PART OF THE REPORT OF COL. WEAVER—UNFRIENDLY ATTITUDE HAS NO REMEDY.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The hostile attitude of the labor towards the organized militia has created a very pessimistic feeling among officers of the army and the national guard which is reflected strongly in the annual report of Colonel E. M. Weaver, chief of the division of militia, to the chief of staff. The officers say that it is almost hopeless to expect any relief from the present conditions by the enactment of State laws or through any national law that would restrain the unions from their unfriendly attitude. The preachings of patriotism are of no effect, even where it is shown that the sole purpose of the militia is the maintenance of law and order, and in Colonel Weaver's opinion the only real practical solution of the problem lies in the creation by the other states of a state constabulary on the lines of the highly trained and disciplined constabulary of Pennsylvania to supplement the effort of the local police or constabulary in the repression of disorder. It is believed that the labor unions would then come to look upon the militia as a force for national defence rather than as a state police, and in course of time, their opposition would disappear.

Perhaps for the reason indicated, Colonel Weaver suggests the increase in the strength during the past year. According to the latest returns this strength was 9165 officers and 110,505 men, which was a net increase of only 784 over the preceding year. It is a curious fact that the little Territory of Hawaii shows the greatest percentage of militiamen to population, the number being 71.8 per thousand, while Nevada had not a single militiaman in the organized ranks. And the average of the whole country was very low, being only 7.7 militiamen to every thousand of population. It appears to be a hopeless task to endeavor to secure uniform excellence of training of the guardsmen, a fact which is attributed to the difference in the militia laws of the states and the introductions of political influence in the appointment of militia officers where they should be selected wholly upon the basis of efficiency and devotion to the service.

Forecasting a diminution in the functions of the present militia, the report makes a strong plea for the creation of an efficient national reserve of about 100,000 men, practically on the lines of the army of Switzerland, which would permit of the retention of the services of the best of the citizen soldiery under federal control without demanding of the officers and men more time from their civilian employments than is now required for instruction in the best state militia organizations. This would be part of the regular army, constituting with the regular army and militia the first line of defence in case of war. It is asserted that under the law and the Constitution a citizen soldiery can only be provided along these lines. Colonel Weaver answers rather sharply the newspaper critics who complain that the new militia law works too hard upon men, by asserting that if the recruiting of the militia must rest upon excursions and attractions of various sorts, there is such inherent weakness in the system as to make it doubtful whether it would be safe to entrust the safety of the country to it.

BEING HELD IN CONCORD

The annual meeting of the N. H. Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions, is being held in Concord, Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 14-15. President Mrs. Wm. W. Niles, Vice President Mrs. L. D. Stevens, Concord, Mrs. H. E. Hovey, Portsmouth, Corresponding Secretary

Mrs. Ida C. Humphrey, Concord, Treasurer Miss Mary Duxbury, Dover.

There was an interesting missionary with addresses Monday evening in St. Paul's church. Tuesday evening a reception will be given to Bishop Niles, celebrating the 40th anniversary of his consecration. Mrs. Hovey and Mrs. Arthur Locke, delegates from St. John's branch of the Woman's Auxiliary, will attend.

CLAIMS FATHER LIVES HERE

J. H. Rivers Died at Jacksonville, Fla., and Inquires Made Here.

A telegram was received late last night addressed to the Chief of Police, saying that J. H. Rivers was dead in Jacksonville, Fla., and his father was living in this city and with the request that he be located if possible and notify W. C. Cooper, Jr.

AN INTERESTING LECTURE

During the reign of Louis 14th, it was the custom to have on exhibition in some public place a doll "La Grand Pandore" on which were displayed the fashions approved by the king himself for the benefit not only of the women of Versailles, but for those of all Europe during the glistering and most fateful period in France's history. After an exhaustive study of the dress and manners of that time, Mr. John Colby Abbott has invented and now presents to the public a reproduction of "La Grand Pandore." This is done by means of a life-sized paper doll, on which are adjusted elaborate gowns, headresses and other ornaments, also of paper. The talk given in connection with the presentation of the fascinating doll is not only descriptive of the fashions of that time, but also of the effect of history and fashion on each other. The influence of different women from the time of Mme. de Mautepion to that of Rose Bertin, is touched upon by biographical bits and anecdotes of that period, furnishing a most interesting account of the splendor of that eventful age.

40TH ANNIVERSARY OF BISHOP NILES

TO BE OBSERVED WITH BANQUET TO DELEGATES TO EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

The fortieth anniversary of the consecration of Bishop Niles will be held in connection with the Diocesan convention and annual meeting of the Woman's auxiliary at Concord beginning last evening and continuing through Wednesday. Large delegations from the Episcopal churches from this state, including rectors of St. John's and Christ churches were in attendance.

Services were held in St. Paul's church and parish house, the opening service being one of the evening prayer at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon. At 7:30 o'clock last evening there were missionary services with addresses by the Rt. Rev. Lucien Lee Kinsolving, bishop of Brazil, and the Rev. S. S. Drury, I. H. D., vice-rector of St. Paul's school.

The program for today will be featured by a banquet at 6:30 p. m., in honor of Bishop Niles, the attendance being limited to the clergy, their wives, delegates to the diocesan convention, two appointed delegates from each Woman's auxiliary in the diocese, officers of the diocese and invited guests. The banquet will be given in the vestry of St. Paul's church. At 7:30 o'clock there was a reception and address in the hall of the parish house, which was open to all. Bishop Parker will preside and there will be addresses by the Rev. Henry Ferguson, D. D., Judge Pease, one of the standing committee and others. Letters from former clergy was presented at this time.

The regular session for Tuesday and Wednesday is announced as follows:

Tuesday, 9 a. m., morning prayer; 9:30 a. m., annual meeting of Woman's auxiliary; 11 a. m., address, Miss Julia C. Emery, general secretary; 1 p. m., luncheon; 2:30 p. m., visit to orphan's home (for Woman's auxiliary); 4 p. m., tea, Woman's auxiliary. St. Paul's school; 4 p. m., diocesan convention opens (parish house); 6:00 p. m., banquet in honor of Bishop Niles.

Wednesday, 7:30 a. m., holy communion for delegates to diocesan convention and the Woman's auxiliary; 8:15 a. m., breakfast (parish house); 9 a. m., convention reassembles. The bishops' annual addresses, 10 a. m., commemorative service. Choirs St. Paul's church, St. Paul's school. Sermon, Rev. Lucius Waterman, D. D., president standing committee; 1 p. m., luncheon; 2 p. m., closing session of convention; 4 to 6 p. m., tea, St. Mary's school.

The committee on the diocesan celebration includes Henry Ferguson, chairman, James B. Goodrich, treasurer, Francis A. Foxcroft, Robert J. Penslee and Edward K. Woodworth.

AT MUSIC HALL

The vanderbilt at the Portsmouth Theatre last evening was especially good. Wood and Meadows headed the bill in a refined singing, talking and dancing act, which proved them to be first class artists. Both possess fine voices and are very graceful dancers. Miss Meadows had three character changes and rendered the Indian song "Silver Bells" in the native costume. The closing duet "Like You" was also very pleasingly given, Mr. Wood as a monologist was indeed clever. They are comparatively new recruits in vanderbilt, but have had a successful career in musical comedy and were for three seasons members of the "Gay New York" company, where they gained much popularity. Their traveling companion is a pet dog, although small of stature yet is named for the largest state in the Union, Texas.

Mr. Henry Myers, the black face comedian made a hit in his singings and talking. He was formerly a member of the Bowdoin Square Stock company, and has been on the stage for nearly fifteen years. He gave the following songs: "Theodore," "On My Way to Reno," and "Casey Jones, the Brave Fireman," all of which brought forth great applause. His witty sayings and talks about the ladies were also well received. His manner of telling stories could not create laughter as well as his queer make-up and he certainly did make the people enjoy his act. He has traveled all through this country and Canada and met with great success.

Mr. Lew A. Ward of the famous Ward family of players and who has had a stage experience of 12 years, is one of the cleverest actors seen here for some time. He gave a series of character impersonations each one illustrated with a characteristic dance that created much amusement. His portrayal of the tramp and other characters is very perfect and he puts much enthusiasm into his acting. Mr. Ward has played the Reich and Proctor circuit many times, also the Orpheum and as well as favorably known in the profession. Mr. Ward writes his own compositions. The pictures were of their usual high standard.

LOCAL DASHES

A meeting of the Board of Trade will be held Wednesday evening. The police department expect that they will get moved to their new quarters by the last of the week.

There will not be very many from this city attend the Harvard-Yale game at New Haven next Saturday.

The growth of the city will be up the river from the way that the industries are springing up in that direction.

The evening train service from Boston to this city on the Boston and Maine railroad is certainly all to the bad.

The selectmen of Newington, New Castle and North Hampton testified before the referee in the rate hearing case on Monday.

The candidates for city offices are beginning to spring up. Some of them have been office seekers in the memory of the oldest inhabitants.

LOST—Either in New Castle or along the road from Fort Constitution to Portsmouth, a bracelet of enamel and brilliants. Reward of $20.00, if returned to this office.

Have your cleaning done by Robbins' power machine, whether your house is wired or not. Rugs, carpets, draperies and furniture. P. A. Robbins, 115 Market street.

With wireless equipment the Isles of Shoals station with its big power boat would be one of the most efficient stations on the coast, and with a field of action that would make it a great help to shipping.

The equipment of the Baker leather company is being shipped here. One carload has already arrived and seven more are on the way. The company expect to get started in a short time now.

If the North Carolina football team can defeat Fort McKinley on their own grounds it would be hard work getting up a team here that could give them a go. A game between Portsmouth and the sailors would be well for Thanksgiving Day.

WHY PARKS ARE A BENEFIT.

Improve Social and Moral Conditions of a Community.

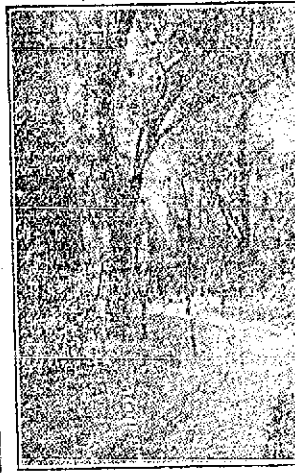

PAY WELL AS AN INVESTMENT.

How Kansas City Has Profited by Its Park System—Methods For Towns to Adopt in Securing Parks—Why Attractiveness Pays.

The old idea of parks was that they are luxuries and are chiefly for those who had time and taste to enjoy the beautiful. A city or town that could afford parks was regarded much in the same light as a rich man who possessed in his own home beautiful paintings, statuary and other works of art. These were obtained chiefly to gratify the pride of the owner or to gratify the taste of the family and friends capable of enjoying such things. Soon it was seen that parks not only furnished pleasure, but greatly increased the health and happiness of the people and improved the social and moral conditions of the communities.

Soon it was seen that parks not only furnished pleasure, but greatly increased the health and happiness of the people and improved the social and moral conditions of the communities. Says J. B. Baker in Farm and Ranch, I could easily demonstrate this fact, but we have not time here, nor do I think it necessary, as it is almost self-evident. Granted, then, that parks, parkings, clean streets and everything else that goes to make up the City Beautiful do add much to the pleasure, happiness, morals and health of the people, are these not reasons enough to inspire every city, town and village to go to work at once to secure these things? But I shall pass over all these good reasons and consider for a moment the commercial side of the subject. From the standpoint of the labor, parks do pay, and they pay big.

Kansas City is a notable example of what has been done in the last few years. Ten or twelve years ago the people there realized that almost nothing had been done to beautify their town and attract the home builder and business man. They quickly adopted ed a plan for the city and worked out a system of parks and boulevards, costing $2,000,000. Already it has proved to be a profitable investment, and they are getting back in increased taxes, due to the enhancement of values, more than enough to justify the outlay. In opening some of the first parks and boulevards they had to fight their way by condemnation proceedings, etc., but it was soon seen that in whatever part of town these improvements were going on property increased in value, so that it was not long before every part of the town was clamoring for such improvements, in some cases even offering to pay for them. Today the people of Kansas City are enthusiastic over their civic improvements, and they say that parks pay.

What has been the case in Kansas City has also been true in many other places. After studying this question for several years I am convinced that the average town or city is not indifferent to these things, but they simply don't know how to make a start. If only a few enthusiastic, public spirited people will get the matter on their hearts they will soon find a way.

Of course the best results cannot be attained in one or two years. It takes time, and the people should not become impatient. I would say to all towns desiring parks, etc.,

First—Employ a good architect to make a plan.

Second—Devise ways and means to secure funds.

Third—Secure land for parks as early as possible, large tracts on the outskirts and several small tracts in the thickly settled neighborhoods.

Fourth—Go to work systematically and intelligently to beautify the grounds.

Fifth—Don't expect everything to be done in one or two years. It takes time to do these things, and no doubt mistakes will be made. It would be remarkable if they were not. But if the proper start be made and honest and interested men are managing it they can hardly fail to obtain good results in the end.

In conclusion I would emphasize the fact that if a town expects to attract people it must make itself attractive. In this day and time no intelligent man cares to live in a town lacking in beauty and health, and the towns that make the best increases in population in the next ten or twenty years will be largely the ones that do most to make themselves attractive by civic improvements.

IT'S ALWAYS BAD

The Best of Backs. Are Bad When They Ache, and Portsmouth People Know It

A bad back is always bad. Bad at night when bedtime comes. Just as bad in the morning. Ever try Doan's Kidney Pills for it?

Know they cure backache—cure every kidney ill? If you don't, some Portsmouth people do.

Read a case of it: Mrs. Charles O. Hill, 153 Vaughan Portsmouth, N. H., says: "A short time ago I was suddenly attacked by severe pains in my back. I could hardly stand and it was difficult for me to get up or down stairs. I at last saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised as the best remedy to use in such cases, and as my husband had previously taken them with good results, I decided to give them a trial. I procured a box at Pillsbury's Drug Store and the result of their use was a complete cure. I have had no occasion to use a kidney remedy since that time."

TAFT AT PANAMA

ARRIVED ON MONDAY AND AT ONCE STARTED ON AN INSPECTION TOUR.

Colon, Panama, Nov. 14—President Taft arrived here this morning. The armored cruiser Tennessee and her convoy, the cruiser Montana, arrived in the harbor at 7.30 a. m. Lieut. Col. Goetz and the others of the receiving party were waiting on board the tug Cristobal, which approached the Tennessee as soon as the latter hove in sight. When the President's vessel reached her anchorage, the tug drew alongside and the receiving party went aboard, and formally welcomed the President to Panama.

At 8.45 a. m., President Taft and his party, Charles P. Taft, Sec. Norton, Capt. Butt, military aide; Capt. Palmer, naval aide; and the President's physician boarded the tug and came ashore.

President Taft left Washington at 4.10 p. m. last Wednesday and sailed on the Tennessee from Charleston, S. C., at 11.30 a. m. Thursday. He plans to be here four days, his schedule calling for his arrival on his return at Charleston on Nov. 22. The President's visit is one of business and it is expected that his time will be fully occupied with matters involved in the construction of the Panama canal.

President Taft did not delay here. Soon after his arrival he boarded a train for Culebra, the site of Culebra cut.

MURDER TRIALS IN SALEM

Famous Lynn Bandits on Trial for Life, and Other Cases to Follow

Salem, Nov. 14—Andrei Ipsen and Wassili Ivankowski were placed on trial in the superior criminal court today, charged with the murder of Thomas A. Landregan, shoe manufacturer, and Thomas Carroll, policeman, on Oxford street, Lynn, June 25, 1910. Chief Justice Peters conducts the case for the government.

The defendants are represented by John P. S. Mahoney of Lawrence and Hon. William D. Chapple of Salem. Each prisoner is indicted in three counts. For this trial, and two other murder cases to be tried at the present sitting of the court, 110 jurors have been drawn from the several cities and towns of Essex county.

The trial of Ipsen and Ivankowski adds another chapter to the history of one of the most terrible double murders in the history of New England. Mr. Landregan had been to the bank to get $4500, to be disbursed in wages due to his employees. Mr. Carroll was escort for Mr. Landregan from the bank to the factory.

As the two were proceeding quietly along Oxford street, three men approached behind them. Officer Carroll was struck on the head and partially stunned. The bag held by Landregan was grabbed by the two men. He resisted when one of the three assailants pulled out a revolver and shot him. Carroll, who had regained consciousness, attempted to assist Mr. Landregan and he, too, was shot down.

The three thieves then fled, one having the bag of money in his possession. Flight was made through a crowd that was assembling, and the bandits fired several shots that a passageway might be secured.

One of the men dropped the bag containing a portion of the money. The thieves were trailed to Pever's field, in Lynn, where they were surrounded by police and citizens. One of them, known as "Joe," was shot and killed. Another was wounded and captured and the third one was found secreted in the bushes and arrested. The story of the murders and subsequent incidents were published in full at the time.

Within the past week it was announced that the Pennsylvania authorities wanted Ivankowski and Ipsen in connection with a daring murder and robbery at McKees Rocks, Penn., last spring.

The trial of Ivankowski and Ipsen is the first of a series of three murder cases to be heard at the present session of the court. When their cases are disposed of, Hristos Tsapas of Haverhill will be tried for the murder of his wife, and Yahan Nabandian will be tried for murdering his roommate at Lynn. Nabandian was brought back to Massachusetts from a European country, to which he fled after the commission of his alleged crime.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

To the Honorable Judge of Probate for the County of Rockingham.

Your petitioners Sigmund Klenke and Lucilla C. Klenke of Portsmouth, in said County, respectfully represent that they are residents of Portsmouth in said County, and are husband and wife, living together in that relation; that Evangelina Haynes, a minor, now residing at Portsmouth, in the County of Rockingham, is an illegitimate child of parents both dead and unknown; that said child was born at Dorchester, Mass., on the 23rd day of December, A. D. 1901, and that she is desirous of adopting said child as their own, and a change of its name; that they are of sufficient ability to bring up said child, and to furnish suitable nurture and education, having reference to the degree and condition of its parents; and that it is fit and proper that such adoption should take effect.

Wherefore they pray that such adoption may be decreed, and that the name of said child be changed to Lucilla Klenke.

Dated the 26th day of September, A. D. 1910.

SIGMUND KLENKE,
LUCILLA C. KLENKE.

ROCKINGHAM, SS.—Probate Court

at Exeter in said County, on the twenty-fifth day of October, A. D. 1910. UPON the foregoing Petition it is Ordered that a hearing be had thereon at a Court of Probate to be held on at Exeter in said County, on the fourth Tuesday of November next, at ten o'clock a. m.; and that the Petitioner notify all persons concerned or interested therein to appear at said Court, and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said Petition should not be granted, by causing a certified copy of said Petition and this order to be published three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Herald, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County, the last publication whereof to be at least one week prior to said Court.

By order of the Judge.

ROBERT SCOTT,
Commissioner to perform the duties of the office of Register of Probate.

A true copy of the original petition and of the original order thereon. Attest: ROBERT SCOTT,
Commissioner to perform the duties of the office of Register of Probate.

DEFEATED FORT MCKINLEY

The football team from the North Carolina are much elated over the defeat of the strong Fort McKinley team on Sunday afternoon. The score was 14 to 0 in favor of the North Carolina, and they were the first team in five years to defeat the Fort McKinley players on their own grounds. The sailors have a fast bunch of players and a good knowledge of the new game.

SONG

If love were but a little thing,
Strange love, which, more than all,
Is great,
One might not such devotion bring,
Early to serve and late.

If love were but a passing breath,
Wild love,—which, as God knows,
Is sweet,
One might not make of life and death
A pillow for love's feet.

NO INSULATED WIRE UNDER THE MAINE

The Story of the Discovery at Havana Is Denied.

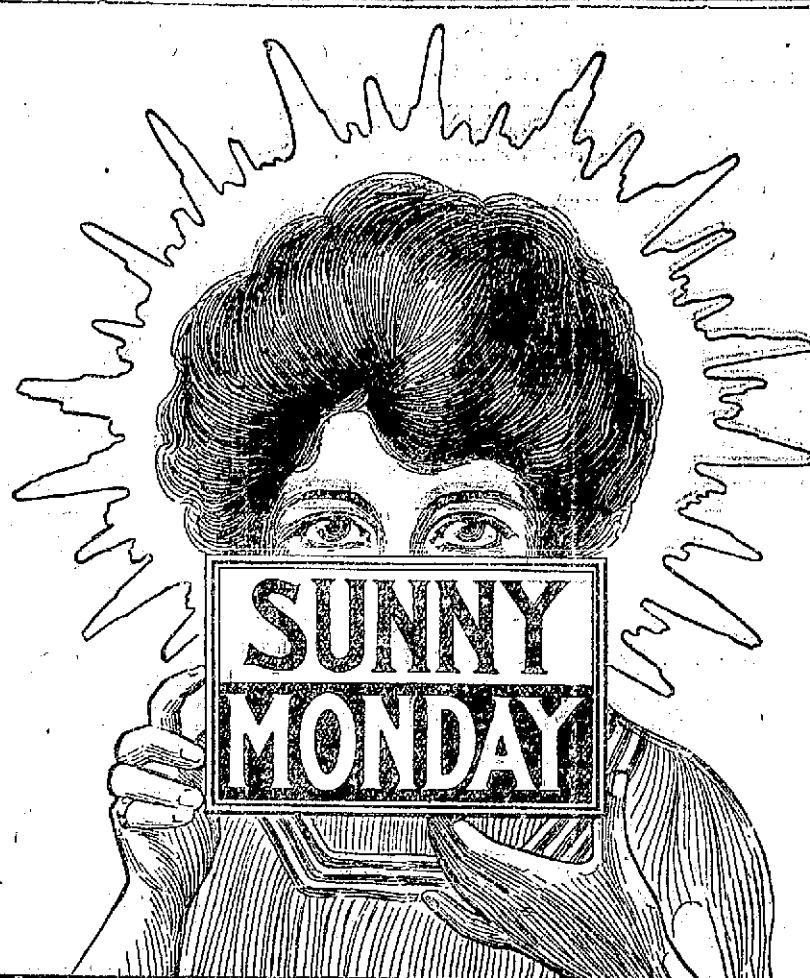

The story that a large quantity of insulated copper wire has been found around the hull of the battleship Maine and may lead to proof that the ship was blown up from outside is declared unfounded. Those who have been watching the work on the wreck have heard of no such discovery. It is pointed out, however, that while the discovery of such insulated wire as might be used for firing a mine would support the theory of this government that the explosion came from the outside, long ago similar wire was discovered, and it proved to be only a part of the lighting outfit of the warship. A wire or cable connecting the mine with the shore would not be likely to answer the description given of a "large quantity of insulated copper wire under and about the hull." The cable, it was suggested, would likely be a double piece running from shore to the doomed vessel.

STARTS DIRT LIKE MAGIC

because it contains a dirt-starting ingredient which loosens the dirt quickly, cleanses the fabric with little rubbing, and washes your clothes clean without washing them out. Because of this dirt-starting feature, Sunny Monday Laundry Soap will save your time and spare your back.

Washes in any Kind of Water

Hot or cold, hard or soft, luke-warm or boiling waters all look alike to Sunny Monday, and it will do equally good work in each. Moreover, it does not waste away like a rosin soap, and its dirt-starting ingredients remain to the last wafer of the cake. If you're an economical woman—if you're particular about the appearance of your clothes—you should ask your grocer for Sunny Monday and give it a good honest trial.

PITHY PRESCRIPTIONS BY THE BUSINESS DOCTOR.

Silence isn't always golden. The talker with something to say is worth a dozen keep stills. —N. C. Fowler, Jr.

Do not tell your business aims or plans. What you can know and the other man doesn't know is your best asset.

Do not do today that which somebody else will do for you tomorrow.

Some merchant somewhere some time may have taken advantage of all of his opportunities for increasing his business, but not you or I.

Better early and wait yourself than late and keep others waiting.

A valuable man is one who always knows what to do next.

No alarm clock is going to ring when time strikes the hour of opportunity. Fate never yet failed to turn down the man who waited for something to turn up.

ATTRACTING CUSTOMERS.

Merchants Should Insist on Neat Appearance of Their Clerks.

The clerk cannot be too neat in his appearance—that is, he should dress with common sense and not reach the degree of snobbery by overdress. There is nothing more disgusting to the patron of a grocery store than to see some slovenly clerk with dirty hands and soiled clothes handling the foodstuffs which the customer desires to buy. It has been known that filthiness on the part of the clerk has driven customers from the store. It is just as easy to keep clean as it is to be dirty, and cleanliness always pays. You can mark it down wherever you find a clerk who is "run down at the heels" in appearance that he is a non-progressive kind of fellow and not likely to make great headway. It is not a sign of economy, because an economical man is generally neat in appearance, though his clothes may not be of the costliest kind.

Take at the dry goods counter. There is no use of being a dude; neither is there any cause for one being dressed like a hobo. In fact, the large department stores in the greater cities of the country demand neatness on the part of the employee, and even failure to have shoes properly shined or wearing of dirty linen is enough for a reprimand, and a few reprimands on account of this neglect of personal dress mean discharge.

"Cleanliness is not alone" next to godliness, "but in case of the clerk often it means success."

CLEANUPS.

Value of Recognizing the Work of Children in This Line.

Easthampton, Mass., started a cleanup movement in April, and, though the lead was taken by the Village Improvement society, the young people were very active. They organized a Junior Village Improvement society and were so efficient in the campaign for a cleaner town that when the day for carting away the rubbish came they found that the older people had remembered them by marking the coverings on the horses with "Jun. V. I. S." The materials for loading the carts and wagons came from cellars, back yards, gardens and vacant lots. The hauling ran into a second day.

The changed appearance of things was so much appreciated that an occasional Saturday during the summer was devoted to keeping the appearance of the town up to the top notch. Children are very effective in work of this kind, and they learn not only to clean up, but to scatter less rubbish for future cleanups. Gradually, too, they are able to reach their elders with the educational process, and finally things are kept where they belong and carted away at convenient intervals, thus giving the town a permanent holiday garb.

Roadside Improvement.

A strictly rural community, having no park and yet desiring to embellish the fair earth in its neighborhood, may take charge of a mile or more of one or more roads running through the district. Let them be kept clean from fence to fence, beginning with the first soaking rain of autumn. When the ground has been several times wet and the surface agitated sufficiently to generate and then kill all weed seeds, sow flower seeds of various kinds in zones. No grander sight could be created than such a stretch of road in early spring, when the flowers are all in bloom.

Civic Improvement Trip.

The state department of agriculture in Texas recently secured the services of D. H. Hemenway, a Massachusetts man who has become an authority on school gardens, for an educational campaign of a month or more. Mr. Hemenway traveled from town to town, speaking on school gardens, the home beautiful and civic improvement. For the most part his lectures were illustrated. The interesting feature of the news is that this missionary journey was taken under the auspices of a state department.

Judged by Appearances.

When we meet a man whose face looks frank and whose talk is fair and a woman whose talk is frank and whose face is fair we are attracted to them. It is the same with stores. We like frankness and fairness on the face of them. The world, you and I as well as the rest, is prone to judge by appearances.

AEROPLANE REACHES LAND FROM BIRMINGHAM'S DECK

U. S. CRUISER BIRMINGHAM.

First Flight Ever Made From a Ship's Deck Successful in Storm

From the deck of the scout cruiser Birmingham, lying at anchor in Hampton Roads, Aviator Eugene B. Ely, on Monday soared in the biplane with which Glenn H. Curtiss flew from Albany to New York, and safely alighted on the sand at Willoughby Spit, two and a half miles away.

The flight made history, for it was the first ever made from a vessel's deck, and anticipated the proposed flight from the deck of the German liner Pennsylvania.

Aviator Ely now proposes to start from land and alight on the deck of a ship going at full speed, a task infinitely more difficult than the one just accomplished.

He was placed at a disadvantage Monday by the fact of the ship lying at anchor, through which fact he lost the effect of the breeze furnished by the ship's momentum to aid him in rising. To render his attempt still less able to succeed the weather was windy and rainy, and the Birmingham on this account gave up the plan of steaming up Chesapeake Bay and letting the intrepid bird man try a flight back to the Norfolk navy yard.

Ely, however, launched himself from the Birmingham's forward deck, and though his machine first plunged to the surface of the water amid a shower of spray it recovered itself and rose triumphantly.

The cruiser lay at anchor in the usual berth used by navy vessels, between Old Point Comfort and the Jamestown Exposition grounds. Ely flew southward and landed near the Hampton Roads Yacht club in Ocean View, part of which separates Hampton Roads from Chesapeake Bay.

publican candidate for representation in Ward Four.

The vote of election day shows that Humphreys was defeated by George D. Marcy, the Democrat candidate, by 28 votes.

The final figures showed that Marcy had 172 and Humphreys 144.

The Republican candidate feels that another look at the returns will change the result in his favor and the old guard is anxious to have the ballots gone over at Concord.

ROWE-REDDEN

Prominent Young People Are United Today

Miss Elizabeth J. Redden, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William N. Redden of 544 Middle Road, was united in marriage at 1.30 this afternoon, to Robert G. Rowe, a prominent young man of this city.

The ceremony occurred at the bride's home and was performed by Rev. Lucius H. Thayer, pastor of the North Congregational church. The double ring service was used and the couple was unattended. Only the immediate family were present.

The bride wore a gown of white satin and princess point lace, a veil caught with a spray of orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and orchids.

The interior of the house was decorated with cut flowers and palms, under an arch of which the happy couple were married.

Mr. Rowe is recorder of the labor board at the navy yard and a prominent member of the Portsmouth Country club and Portsmouth Athletic club. He is a very popular and much esteemed gentleman, and his wife is equally well liked in social circles in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowe left on an afternoon train for the South, and after a wedding trip will reside with the bride's parents. Their hosts of friends wish them every happiness.

NAVY YARD

Plenty of Room

An incident illustrating the ease with which the river is navigated since the removal of Henderson's Point occurred Monday afternoon. The torpedo destroyer Drayton, coming up from the lower harbor, met directly in the narrows the steamer Charles F. Mayer going down river with the tug M. Mitchell Davis alongside. In addition there were two dredges of the Massachusetts Contracting company moored almost in midstream, and the whole flotilla was bunched abreast, in one spot. However, there was plenty of room for all the craft, and no confusion among the captains.

Moved to Shears Dock

The North Carolina was moved to the shears dock on Monday, where the workmen are today engaged in taking off some of her electric cranes for repairs.

Important to Storekeepers

An important subject discussed at the conference of naval general storekeepers, held at the New York navy yard during the past week, related to the maintenance of central distribution points, where should be accumulated, and from which should be shipped, certain classes of stores used on board naval ships. At yards which are not designated as a sort of main depot in this particular the articles will be kept in greatly diminished quantities sufficient only to meet emergencies. It is proposed to utilize the shipping facilities between navy yards so as to take advantage of such means of transferring the supplies from the place of storage to the place where they are needed. The officers who attended the conference also went over the balance sheets of all stores kept in navy yards, which information had been compiled by classes and by values. By this means it will be possible to reduce the amount of stock to the minimum and avoid excessive accumulation at any place.—Army and Navy Register.

Clerks to Meet in New York

The annual convention of the classified civil service employees will be held at New York on Monday next. The Portsmouth branch, which includes the force at this yard and the Bath Iron Works, will be represented by John C. Dolan of the hull division, who was elected a delegate at a recent meeting of the organization in this city.

To Send Engine to Philippines

One of the small air compressor engines, formerly in use by the department of construction and repair, has been ordered crated and shipped to Cavite.

Boats for the Big Ships

Orders have been received by the hull division to build two thirty foot motor boats, which will be constructed as soon as possible, for the U. S. S. Florida and Utah.

Bobby Takes a Bride

Robert G. Rowe, the efficient and popular recorder of the yard labor board was united in marriage this afternoon to Miss Elizabeth Redden, one of the city's best known young ladies.

Back From the Conference

Paymaster George R. Venable, head of the general store, returned today from New York, where he has been attending a meeting of general storekeepers at the Brooklyn yard.

Going in the Dry Dock

The Drayton has returned from her trial trip, which she started to make on Monday, but did not complete, owing to an accident to her port propeller. She is expected to go in the dry dock on Wednesday.

Unable to Work

Fred R. Dinmore of the yard electrical force, is away from his duties owing to an accident which he sustained last week, by a fall.

Will Have a Good One

The usual big spread at the naval prison, barracks and aboard ships will be served on Thanksgiving day.

The Packard Method

In building each Packard Piano a high class workman takes all the time he has to do the work right. After the work is done, time must be consumed in allowing the parts to settle, and then it is gone over again. This is repeated until each detail has been brought into a harmonious whole.

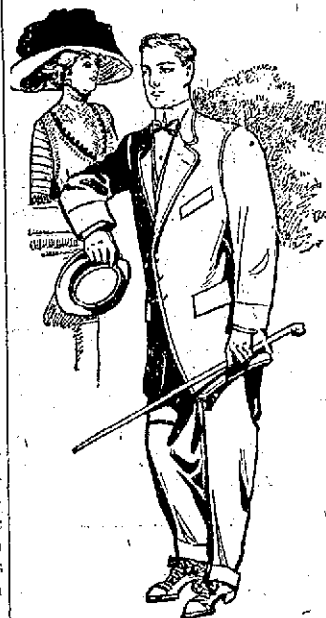

Ample time is allowed for every branch of the work, nothing is rushed or crowded, and no chances taken. It takes an average of six to eight months to build a Packard Piano.

Appreciate the Packard Method. Then, it never before, you will realize that the Packard is all we claim for it.
